

Tomorrow's Scholar 529[®] Plan: Save and Pay for College More Easily

... connecting to the future

There is a lot to think about when your student is preparing for college. You've done the work in saving diligently with a 529 plan, but did you know there are ways to make sure you're paying for college smartly as well? Earnings growth is tax exempt so long as you are taking a qualified distribution from your 529 account.¹

So, what counts as a qualified distribution?

- Tuition
- Fees
- Supplies
- On- and off-campus room and board²
- Equipment, now including computers!
- Up to $10,000 in K-12 tuition per beneficiary per year

A full list of these expenses can be found at irs.gov. Eligible institutions include most two- and four-year colleges, technical, vocational and graduate schools as well as primary or secondary public, private and religious schools.³

Tomorrow's Scholar can help you pay for college more efficiently

To help you on your journey to pay for college, when taking a distribution for a qualified expense, make sure the check is made payable to the college. This way, the distribution can be coded as qualified and reported as such on your tax form for the year. If distributions are not sent directly to the institution and are made out to the plan's beneficiary, it will be coded as a non-qualified distribution, and any proof needed to change that to qualified will have to be made at tax time with a tax advisor.

Additional Benefits of Tomorrow's Scholar:

- No time, age or income limits for contributions
- Covers most expenses at most schools
- Three ways to invest using world-class managers
- Protected from claims from creditors⁴
- Account structure allows for joint ownership
- Owner retains access and control
- Removes assets from taxable estates
- Special gifting rules allow higher funding opportunities

Special gifting rules

Account holder maintains control

Joint ownership

Accepted at most schools nationwide

Protection from creditors

College is possible. Working with your Financial Advisor, you can reach your higher education funding goals. For more planning resources, gifting and saving tools, and information on investment options visit TomorrowsScholar.com, or contact your Financial Advisor.

¹ Earnings component of non-qualified withdrawals may be subject to federal and state taxes and the additional federal 10% tax.

² For off-campus housing to be considered a qualified expense, the student must be enrolled at least half-time, and the price of off-campus housing cannot exceed that of on-campus housing. Please visit irs.gov for more information, or consult your tax advisor.

³ Distributions for tuition in connection with enrollment or attendance at an primary or secondary public, private, or religious school are federally income-tax free up to a maximum of $10,000 per taxable year per beneficiary from all 529 plans. The tax treatment of withdrawals used to pay for primary and secondary school tuition differs between states and as such may differ from the federal tax treatment as well.

⁴ Contributions to a 529 plan account made more than one year before the filing of a bankruptcy petition are generally not considered part of a debtor's bankruptcy estate, provided certain conditions are met. State laws will vary; consult a legal advisor to determine whether state or federal credit protection may apply to your situation.

Tomorrow's Scholar[®] is a state-sponsored 529 college savings plan administered by the State of Wisconsin. Voya Investments Distributor, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company provides investment management, administrative and distribution services for the Tomorrow's Scholar[®] Plan.

An investor's or a designated beneficiary's home state may offer state tax or other state benefits such as financial aid, scholarship funds, and protection from creditors that are only available for investments in that state's qualified tuition program. Please consider this before investing.

Earnings component of non-qualified withdrawals may be subject to federal and state taxes and the additional federal 10% tax.

The tax information presented herein should not be construed as tax advice. Before implementing any strategy that seeks tax advantages, 529 account owners should consult with their financial advisors, accountants, or other tax professionals.

The tax information herein is not intended to be used, and cannot be used by any taxpayer, for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Taxpayers should seek advice based on their own particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

Investments in Tomorrow's Scholar[®] 529 Plan are subject to certain charges, which will reduce the value of your Account as they are incurred. Please see the Program Description for details of charges or fees that apply to the specific Tomorrow's Scholar[®] 529 Plan.

Investments in Tomorrow's Scholar[®] 529 Plan are subject to investment risks, including the loss of the principal amount invested, and may not be appropriate for all investors.

Voya Investment Management is not an underwriter for any underlying municipal securities.

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses associated with municipal fund securities before investing. More information about municipal fund securities is available in the issuer's Program Description. You may obtain a Program Description at TomorrowsScholar.com or by calling 866-677-6933. The Program Description should be read carefully before investing.

Voya Investment Management Co. LLC, provides investment management and administrative services for the Tomorrow's Scholar[®] 529 Plan. Shares in the program are distributed by Voya Investments Distributor, LLC, Member FINRA/SIPC.

©2020 Voya Investments Distributor, LLC • 230 Park Ave, New York, NY 10169 • All rights reserved.

W529-QUALIFIED 011020 • IM1073641 • 176358 • WLT250002504

Not FDIC Insured | May Lose Value | No Bank Guarantee

PLAN | INVEST | PROTECT

voinvestments.com

VOYA[®]